

Consulting Group

Lightstream provides a crucial strategy to this consulting group, executing a security and compliance solution aligned to fit unique business practices and industry goals. The implementation, taking just two weeks, ensured massive cost savings and minimal interruptions to business operations.

Business Problems

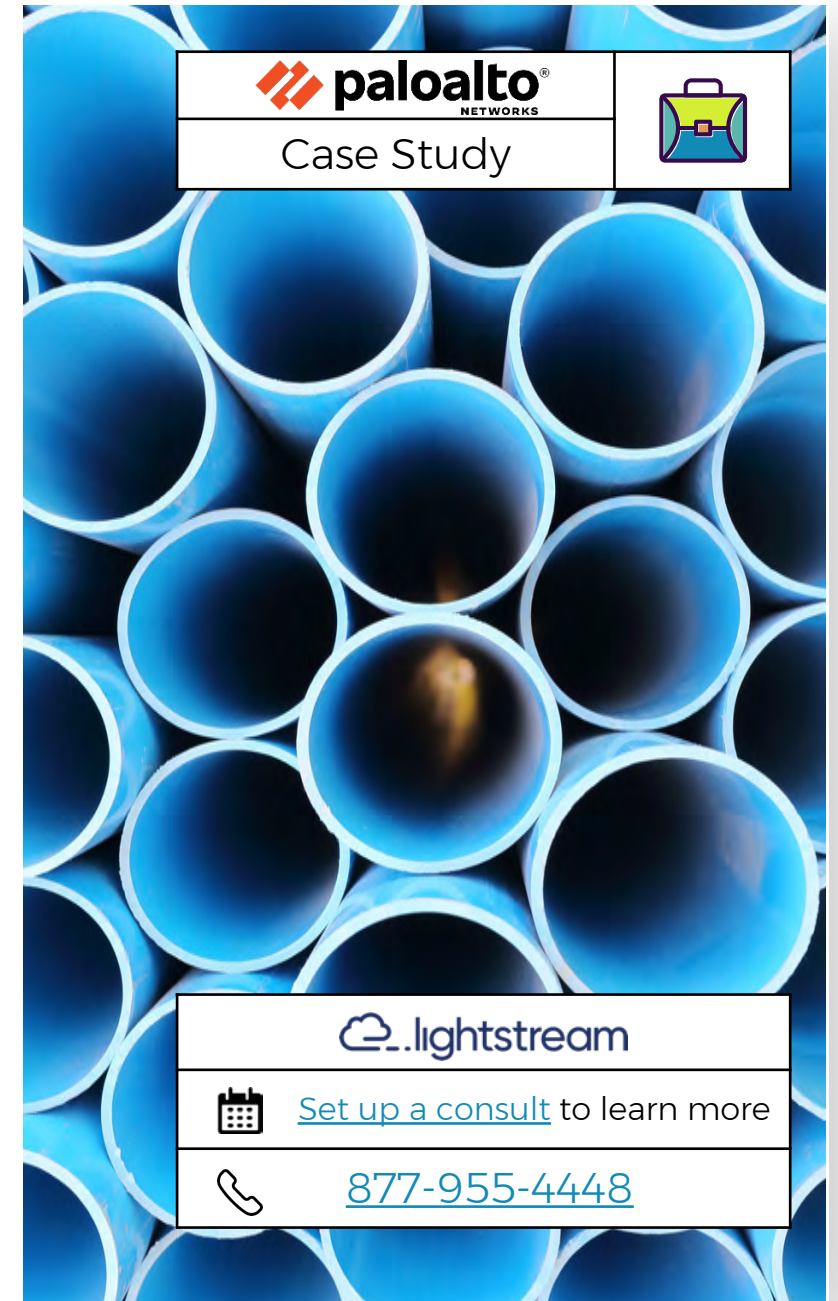

- Following its decision to transition to the cloud, this company was met with compliance concerns and security issues that it desperately needed to address, but lacked the internal resources to navigate.
- The group's primary source of business is government consulting contracts, meaning time was of the essence to have required compliance standards in place and to ensure a security solution was executed.
- The company needed a personalized security plan aligned to address its needs in order to minimize down time and to ensure optimal efficiency and compliance.

Solution

- Using a pragmatic process and proven approach, Lightstream's Prisma Cloud Security Accelerator allowed the company to achieve a reliable, workable plan targeting its cloud security and compliance needs.
- Lightstream studied this group's business model in detail, flushing out outcomes that could be further streamlined using available technology offerings.
- Lightstream strategically designed the process for implementing these technology solutions to utilize existing infrastructure and resources that the company already had in place.

Business Outcomes

- Prisma Cloud Security Accelerator's emphasis on customer service and attention to detail resulted in a tailor-made solution aligned with the group's unique needs and business practices.
- Lightstream's reliable model delivered a best-in-class solution, in just two weeks, allowing for massive cost savings and minimal interruption to business operations. As a comparison, implementation for such a comprehensive and intricate system typically takes other solutions providers one to two months.
